

12 Tick Tock

Rise and fall, day and night,
Short and tall, wrong and right,

Wet and dry, thick and thin,
Earth and sky, out and in,

Empty, full, slave and free,
Push and pull, you and me.

Small and great, stop and go,
Love and hate, yes and no,

Dark and light, hide and show,
Fire and ice, fast and slow,

Square and round, land and sea,
Up and down, you and me.

Rise and fall, day and night,
Short and tall, wrong and right,

Wet and dry, thick and thin,
Earth and sky, out and in,

Empty, full, slave and free,
Push and pull, you and me.

Opposites attract in personality and temperament. This is especially true when one marries young. But those who marry later usually want a lot more in common so to have fewer things to argue about. But young or old, we should not be unequally yoked in spirit.